

To Gov. Walz and the Honorable Members of the Minnesota Legislature,

As clergy and people of faith from across this state, we come to you as shepherds of our communities. We are writing to demand that you act with moral clarity and courageous leadership by immediately calling a special legislative session to pass a ban on assault weapons and high-capacity magazines.

Our collective heart is broken by the unimaginable tragedy at Annunciation Catholic School. This unthinkable violence, which wounded 21 others, shattered a sacred space and sent a tremor of fear through every school, church, and community in our state. We refuse to accept that our children must learn lockdown drills and live with the constant threat of gun violence as a new normal.

We are here to clear up a serious confusion: our job, as people of faith, is to offer thoughts and prayers and recommend ideas especially as they relate to faith communities. Your job, as our elected officials, is to make policy changes. It is a fundamental moral responsibility of any civil society to protect its most vulnerable members. Yet, a week and a half after this tragedy, we see no legislative commitment to call for a special session.

We gathered recently in the Rotunda of the Minnesota State Capitol because we believe that our grief must be turned into laws that protect our communities. In these days of vigils, prayers, and marches, we turn our attention to you, our legislators, because you alone have the power to do what the rest of us cannot: make laws. We gave you this power, and we now demand that you use it.

A ban on assault weapons is not a partisan issue; it is a moral one. These weapons were designed for the battlefield, not for our schools and churches. They are tools of war, not peace. Their only purpose is to inflict mass casualties, to maim and destroy. Protecting lives is a sacred duty. While we cannot erase the violence that has already occurred, you can make it far more difficult for someone to obtain these weapons tomorrow.

We stand with the thousands of students and parents across Minnesota who are demanding action. We call on Governor Walz to immediately convene a special session, and we call on every member of the legislature to honor the lives lost by finally passing a ban on assault weapons.

It is time for courage.

Sincerely,
